KRUSEN APPEALS FOR LOAN PASSAGE TO HELP HOSPITALS

Director Urges Speedy Ratification of Measures to Get Funds to Assist Ill

IT'S VITAL, WE MUST HAVE MONEY, HE SAYS

Independents Await Action of Gaffney, Favor Measure, Talk of Compromise

Necessity for completion and enlargement of city hospitals without delay caused Director Krusen, of the Department of Health and Charities, to appeal to many councilmen today, regardless of political affiliation, for early passage of the loan bill.

He urged that a bill be passed, even if it is for less than $11,750,000, the figure named by the Vire adherents.

Many members of Councils on both sides of the present loan controversy have realized that Director Krusen's request is urgent and it is probable that his action will bring peace among the warring factions.

Director Krusen is vitally interested in an item in the loan of $450,000 which provides for completion and equipment of a power house of the Philadelphia General Hospital and erection of children's hospital.

Vital, He Declares

"It is vital," said Director Krusen today, "that this money should be provided. I have plans completed and can put them under contract at once. In the event of a hard winter we could not properly care for the 2100 patients now in the Philadelphia General Hospital. They would suffer greatly, as the old equipment is entirely inadequate. This is entirely too serious a question to be delayed. We must have that money."

Robert Lambertson, leader of the independents in Common Council, is waiting for the administration to make the next move in the loan fight.

"It is to Mr. Gaffney," said Mr. Lambertson today.

The independents killed the $11,750,000 loan when it came up for vote last Thursday in Common Council. The administration needed a two-thirds vote to pass the measure. The opposition of the independents, with some aid from other anti-Vire interests in Common Council, made this impossible.

"Whether the independents will compromise," said Mr. Lambertson today, "depends on what you mean by the term. We emphatically will not compromise merely in the spirit of compromise. That is to say, we will not yield one point just for the sake of gaining another."

Want Bill to Pass

"We are eager for the passage of the bill. We feel that our amendments were conservative rather than excessive. If we are shown that the Vire interests in any of the cuts made in the amendment we will gladly yield, but we will not yield if we are not convinced that the cuts were made inadvisably."

Chairman Lambertson objected to having the bill read by the Vire interests in Common Council were instrumental to a large degree in defeating the bill.

"Mr. Gaffney's statement yesterday indicated that the Vire element had a good deal to do with the defeat of the loan," said Mr. Lambertson. "They are always shouting Penrose, Penrose, Penrose. If you look over the list of members voting you will find that scarcely any of them voted against the bill. Beginning with Rollo Dance, of the Tenth ward, and going right down the list, you will see that the Penrose men voted with the Vire men for the bill. It was defeated by Independent votes."

Blame It on Penrose

"Whenever the Vire forces get a wallow they blame it on Penrose. They think much of the Independents. They regard us, I suppose, as sort of poor, harmless individuals. They watch out for the Penrose men because they are practical fellows, and every now and then are able to put something over."

Speaking of the cuts suggested by the Vire interests.

TIE-UP IN SUBWAY

Safety Devices Out of Order and Riders Are Late for Work

Two "staps" on the Market street elevated tied up traffic during the rush hour this morning. Announcement made by the Rapid Transit Company showed that the signal system was not working correctly, and that the elevated trains stopped as a safety measure.

The first stop occurred shortly after 7 o'clock, and the second at 7:45 o'clock. The first delay was for only a few minutes, and the second for a quarter of an hour. Staps along the entire system were stopped, and many persons for their work in the center of the city.

The Weather Vane

Cloudy tonight and Sunday, sure. Little change in temperature. Gentle to moderate north winds blow. What's the difference? I don't know.

3 Arrested as Campaign on Auto Thieves Opens

Every Guilty Man to be Punished to Limit, the Police Say—Thefts of Cars This Year 171, Only 31 Recovered

Three men, arrested in connection with the theft of an automobile at Fifteenth and Chestnut streets, were held in $3000 bail today for a further hearing next Saturday by Magistrate Baker.

The suspects gave their names as John Mazzarelli, Samuel Miller and Herman Kotsky. Mazzarelli was arrested in a garage at Sixth and Carpenter streets last night by Detective Rago, while he was fling the engine number from a stolen automobile, the police say.

Detectives Gentile and Pagliatti are working with Rago.

The three men were arrested when they visited the garage this morning and were held. All are being held pending an investigation by the police to try to link them up with the numerous motorcar thefts being reported by insurance companies and owners.

The prompt arrest of the three marks the beginning of a determined effort by the police to smash up the system of automobile stealing now prevalent here.

Souder in Charge

Captain of Detectives Souder is in active charge of the detectives at work on the problem. Every arrest made will be pushed to the limit and the bureau will go to court only when the authorities believe they have sufficient evidence to convict the offenders.

Automobile thieves have been escaping with comparatively light sentences. Since the first of the year the heaviest sentence imposed on such a thief was one of two and a half to three years. This sentence was imposed by Judge Charles V. Henry, of Lebanon, sitting in the Court of Quarter Sessions here.

The offender was Ulysses Cain, indicted for the theft of eight motorcars.

The general run of sentences after conviction is from six to nine months. The docks at the district attorney's office shows that many alleged auto thieves forfeit their bail rather than stand trial. The bail is generally fixed at a sum about equal to the value of the car stolen.

Held in $1500 Bail

Two men arrested last night as suspicious characters were held in $1500 for a further hearing next Saturday by Magistrate Baker today to give the police a chance to investigate to find if they had any connection with the theft of an automobile from Tenth and Chestnut streets. The machine was the property of George Farrell, of Swedesboro, N. J.

Two patrolmen saw three men abandon the machine at Front and McKean streets. They gave chase. Later they caught Anthony Seogno, of Twelfth and McKean streets, and John Ward, same address, sitting on a step. They placed them under arrest as suspicious characters.

A decided increase in the number of automobiles stolen in Philadelphia is shown by the records of the Automobile Underwriters' Detective Bureau, 411 Walnut street.

OHIOAN ARRIVES WITH 1625 TROOPS

Lack of Cheering, Crowds and Whistle Blowing Marks Landing of Soldiers in City

PHILADELPHIANS ABOARD

The transport Ohioan docked at Snyder avenue wharf at 9:41 o'clock this morning after an uneventful trip up the Delaware River, during which the customary blowing of whistles and the cheers and salutes of workmen on the river banks were sadly lacking.

The twenty-six officers and 1539 men aboard the transport received virtually no welcome. The little police tug Ashbridge failed to get more than 300 yards from the wharf before the Ohioan arrived. It carried the parents and fiancée of one man aboard the transport. The Fourth Naval District band, three girls of the Jewish Welfare Board, and a few men and women whose curiosity rather than interest in the returning troops prompted them to go aboard made up the rest of the Ashbridge's "passenger" list.

Not a whistle was blown at either the Philadelphia Navy Yard, at League Island, or at the Hog Island shipyards. The only cheering was that of a man and a boy formed the crowd that greeted the boys. A large force of caisson workers of the Red Cross and a few members of other women's war-work organizations in this city made up the official "reception committee."

The Ohioan drew up to the pier at 9:25 o'clock and was tied fast in the record time of sixteen minutes. The Naval Band played, the Red Cross workers cheered, and that was all. The men were hustled aboard troop trains.

THAT WAS SOME CHASE

Patrolman Runs Twelve Blocks to Capture Alleged Hold-Up Artist

Richard Bloenker, twenty-two years old, of Fifth and Pine streets, accused of robbing a woman, was captured by Patrolman Miller, of the Tenth and Buttonwood streets, in some sprinter. And Miller avows that Bloenker has some speed himself. They tested their abilities in a chase of twelve blocks that ended in the arrest of Bloenker as an alleged highwayman and the capture of Richard Arndt, 646 North Franklin street. He was accompanied by a young woman whose name was not given. Bloenker is charged with trying to hold up and rob the couple.

When he saw the policeman he started the race, going out Green to Broad, south to Vine and turning south again on Fifteenth and going toward Sixteenth on Arch. Ferris, a patrolman of the Fifteenth and Vine streets station, started to join the chase just as Miller and Bloenker both dropped breathlessly to the pavement.

Only 36 Votes for Knox Resolution, Poll Shows

Assured defeat awaits the Knox resolution, if its supporters force a test vote in the Senate. According to New York Times, the motion to separate the peace treaty from the league of nations covenant cannot obtain more than thirty-five or thirty-six votes.

The decision of Common Pleas Court No. 2 is therefore reversed and the costs for the action placed upon the Goldwyn Distributing Corporation.

DEAD HUSBAND RETURNS

Spouse No. 2, However, Turns Wife Over to Man Who Had Her First

Philadelphians figured in two romances that received queer twists by Fate, according to reports received today.

At Evansville, Ind., John G. Parker, of this city, married Mrs. Juanna Valine Barnett after word of the death of her first husband was received from the War Department.

Recently Barnett returned to this country alive and claimed his bride. Parker recognized the validity of the claim and allowed his "wife" to have the second marriage annulled.

Max Fletcher, another local soldier, obtained a license to wed Lottie A. Wright of Richmond, Va., while he was training at Camp Lee. He was sent abroad, however, before the license could be taken advantage of. Fletcher was killed in France. His bride-to-be recently returned the license to the curthouse and secured one to marry another soldier.

MOVIE CENSORS ARE UPHELD BY DECISION OF SUPREME COURT

Justice Stewart Overrules Action of Common Pleas—Says Board Opinion Is Holding

Decisions of the State Board of Moving Picture Censors cannot be upset by the Common Pleas courts, providing the censors are acting with "the scope of their discretion."

This ruling was announced today by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, in an opinion filed by Justice Stewart.

The censors refused approval to "The Brand," controlled by the Goldwyn Distributing Corporation. The case was taken into Common Pleas Court No. 2 and the censors were ordered to approve the picture, with certain modifications.

Justice Stewart, in an elaborate opinion, discusses the powers of the Board of Censors and that body's right to use its own judgment in passing upon pictures submitted. Alluding to the lower court's view that the Board of Censors should be guided by the way in which "ordinary people," opposed to people of "extraordinary or abnormal temperament," judged the morals of a motion picture, the Supreme Court justice says:

"We have but a single comment to make. This is not a finding of any fact that would support an inference that the board vested its conclusion in the case on any ground not within the scope of its jurisdiction. Our effort has been to show that on other ground could a reversal of the Board of Censors in this case be justified."

The decision of Common Pleas Court No. 2 is therefore reversed and the costs for the action placed upon the Goldwyn Distributing Corporation.

3 INJURED IN CRASH; GIRL PINNED IN CAR WHEN POLE BREAKS

Accident on Church Road—Machine Occupants Taken to Jewish Hospital

Three persons were injured this morning and all narrowly escaped death when an automobile in which they were riding struck a telegraph pole on Church road near Valley Green, Montgomery county.

The pole snapped off and fell across the top of the car, pinning it to the road.

The injured are:

Andrew Davis, twenty-seven years old, 414 Ogden street; scalp wounds.

William Dugler, twenty-one years old, 1821 Wallace street; left leg cut and bruised.

Edna Dunn, twenty-four years old, 1314 North Sixth-first street; bruises of arms and neck.

The injured were extricated from the car by John Murphy, of Roxborough.

The accident was caused by the car skidding and striking the pole, which snapped with a loud crack. Mr. Murphy heard cries and found the wrecked automobile, after groping through the darkness. The telegraph pole extended across the roadway and was removed with much difficulty.

Miss Dunn was found directly under the pole, and it was thought at first that she had been fatally injured. Mr. Murphy took the injured persons to the Jewish Hospital.

SIEGE STATE IN MUNSTER

Military Rule in Westphalian District Due to Spartan Disorders

Coblenz, June 21.—(By A. P.)—A state of siege has been declared in the district of Munster, in Westphalia, northeast of Cologne, because of Spartan disturbances. Information to that effect reached American headquarters here.

General von Watler, commanding the German Seventh Corps, with headquarters at Munster, has appointed General von Braunschweig to be military commander of the Munster district.

GIRL KILLED BY TRUCK

Seven-Year-Old Child Run Down by Express Motor

Rose Hightman, seven years old, 2240 Pratt street, was run over and killed by a motor truck in front of her home in Frankford today.

Charles Kasza, 4354 Edgemont street, driver of the American Express Company truck that struck the girl, was arrested and will be held without bail to await the action of the coroner.

The body of the girl was rushed to the home of Dr. W. H. Lambert, Wakefield and Tacony streets, but he said she had died almost instantly.

ITALIAN KING ASKS FRANCESCO NITTI TO FORM CABINET

Once Head of Treasury Selected as Successor to Orlando

FORMER PREMIER TITTONI TO BE FOREIGN MINISTER

Present Peace Delegation From Rome May Sign Treaty With Germany

By the Associated Press

Rome, June 21.—King Victor Emmanuel has requested Francesco Nitti, former minister of the treasury, to form a cabinet, the Giornale d'Italia announces semi-officially. Former Premier Tittoni will be foreign minister, it is added.

The king selected Nitti as a result of interviews he held with political leaders. The new ministry will succeed that of Orlando, which resigned on Thursday. The king consulted the presidents of the Senate and Chamber of Deputies, as well as other men prominent in public life, concerning a solution of the political crisis.

The consensus of opinion in Rome is that a new cabinet must be formed as soon as possible, because of the necessity for not interrupting Italy's negotiations in the Peace Conference at Paris.

Pressure is being brought to induce Guglielmo Marconi to take part in the new ministry, with the portfolio of minister of navy. It is suggested that Signor Luzzati, former premier, go to Paris, especially for financial, economic and commercial negotiations.

Paris, June 21.—(By A. P.)—Neither the Italian nor any of the other delegates to the Peace Conference have received news from Rome indicating whether a new peace delegation will be sent to Paris.

Opinion in conference circles seems general that Signor Orlando and his associates may sign the German treaty in spite of the fall of the Orlando government. The king appointed the peace delegation, consequently a change in the government would not necessarily make the appointment of a new delegation imperative, although it would cause no surprise if a new head were designated to replace Signor Orlando.

As to financial and economic questions, the handling of which by Signor Orlando apparently had been unsatisfactory to the majority of Italians, are not directly involved in the German treaty, many members of the Peace Conference believe that the new Italian government may not insist upon a change in the delegation until after the German treaty is signed.

It is not regarded as likely, however, that the present Italian delegation will be permitted to continue negotiations concerning the Austrian treaty, in which Italy's territorial interests are involved.

The Finance minister had reached a deadlock over the departure of Signor Orlando from Rome, and it will stay in that position. While the Italian delegation was apparently willing to accept the creation of the Fiume district into a buffer state, no decision could be reached as to the boundary between Istria and Italy, which was satisfactory to both Italy and the Allies.

NEW SCHOOL HEAD SEES BIG JOB HERE

Dr. Finegan Says Penna. Offers Greatest Opportunity of Any State in Nation

FOR HIGHER TEACHERS' PAY

Pennsylvania offers the greatest opportunity in America today for constructive work along educational lines. This is the opinion of Dr. Thomas E. Finegan, Governor Sproul's newly appointed state superintendent of public instruction. He spoke at a luncheon with the purpose of taking advantage of these opportunities, and plans to place this state's educational system on a plane with its unequalled industrial development.

Dr. Finegan has been in Harrisburg for a week. He was given a dinner last evening at the City Club by leaders in educational work in Philadelphia and Pennsylvania and will again be the guest of honor this evening at a dinner given by the Schoolmen's Club.

In an interview today Dr. Finegan emphasized the big work of the plans not yet developed to a stage where they can be made public, which he has for Pennsylvania's school system.

Dr. Finegan has had thirty-five years' experience in New York state, where he made a nation-wide reputation for progressiveness. His last big job in New York was to help get on the statute books of that state the most advanced teachers' minimum wage law that is in force in this country today.

To Push Industrial Education

Dr. Finegan plans a broader development of industrial education in this state, a higher standard of training for teachers, with correspondingly higher wage standards; a more detailed and comprehensive system of state aid and control in all matters educational.

He has conceived a profound admiration for Governor Sproul, whom he speaks of as the "best informed in matters concerning education of many governors with whom I have talked." He has been promised by the Governor and by members of both branches of the State Legislature, support, both moral and financial, for his projects of reform and progress.

The new state superintendent of public instruction, physically, is almost as tall, stout, smiling, with keen eyes and plentiful gray hair. His voice is pleasant.

MARCH PRAISES U. S. PRESS

Chief of Staff Discontinues Weekly Interviews

Washington, June 21.—(By A. P.)—In discounting today weekly interviews with press representatives, inaugurated when he took office as chief of staff, General March warmly praised the attitude of American newspapers on military matters during the war.

"It has been of very great value to the War Department and was to the highest degree patriotic," he said.

DE VALERA, IRISH LEADER, IN U. S.

President of Self-Styled Republic Escaped to This Country Without Passports

Edward De Valera, president of the Irish republic, is now in this country. This was announced here today by Dr. Patrick McCartan, envoy of the Irish republic, who is living in this city.

De Valera is said to be in New York. Rumors that he had been in this city were denied by Doctor McCartan. He said he was not at liberty to disclose the Irish president's whereabouts. A dispatch from New York announced that reservations had been made at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York for De Valera.

Doctor McCartan got word today from Harry Boland, a member of the Irish parliament now in this country, that De Valera had arrived "somewhere in America." Doctor McCartan denied that De Valera had come here with a stoker in the hold of a vessel that docked in this city.

Many prominent Irish leaders in this city will go to New York this afternoon to supposedly confer with De Valera, who is expected to meet the Irish-American leaders there sometime tonight. It is not known whether he will visit this city.

De Valera left the British Isles sixteen days ago, according to Mr. Boland, who is his secretary. He is now in seclusion. His mission to America was made in the hope of obtaining official recognition of the Irish Republic by the United States government.

Boland said De Valera would "come out of retirement" Monday afternoon when he would talk with newspapermen in New York and disclose to them how he succeeded in escaping from the British Isles.

Speedy Military Action, New U. S. Policy on Mexico

Troops Will Dash Across Border if Villa Begins Reprisals—"Watchful Preparedness" Plan Adopted—Carranza to Aid

By the Associated Press

Washington, June 21.—Recent developments along the southern border and within Mexico itself, it was learned officially today, has brought a radical change in the attitude of this government with Mexico. It can be stated with positive authority that "watchful waiting has been discarded for 'watchful preparedness.'"

The War Department has perfected plans to throw a punitive expedition of adequate strength across the Rio Grande the moment word is received of reprisals on the part of Villa for the Juarez incident or in case of other contingencies tending to bring the Mexican situation again to a stage approaching the crisis of last Sunday.

Orders for the advance of this expedition, however, it was said, would be accompanied by instructions for the military occupation of territory necessary to insure the safety of the expedition and absolute protection of the border against the creation of a neutral zone south of the line.

Further movement of the expedition would depend entirely on subsequent developments.

Doubt Villa Quits

Military observers here place little credence in the reports that Villa has abandoned his offensive to the north. Economic as well as military necessity, it was pointed out, call for the elimination of the Carranza garrisons now stationed on the flanks of the territory Villa now controls and for possession of a principal frontier entry port which would give the rebel chieftain fresh sinews of war in the shape of customs duties and equipment.

Although three federal generals now are operating against Villa in northern Mexico, confidential reports to the War Department are not optimistic regarding the success of the Carranzista campaign there, while the withdrawal of badly needed troops from the south, it is expected, will be followed by fresh incursions of the Felixistas—already at the very gates of the capital. The Carranza military establishment, according to of-

FIRST ATTEMPT TO PICK CABINET ENDS IN DEFEAT

Majority Socialist Leader Was Unable to Rally Ministry Around Him

SOUTH GERMAN STATES STRONG FOR ACCEPTANCE

Erzberger, Probable Peace Chief, Asks German Admission to the League at Once

POST FOR BERNSTORFF

Weimar Reports David Will Act Temporarily as Chancellor and as Rantau's Successor

American military dispatches from Germany say that Herman Mueller's effort to form a cabinet failed and that Dr. Eduard David has been asked to undertake the task. Mathias Erzberger will probably head the peace mission and Count Brockdorff-Rantau has little chance of being included in the new government.

Erzberger is reported to have sent a note to the Allies asking if Germany will be admitted to the league of nations immediately. Out of the mass of varying reports from Germany all indications point to a general and growing sentiment toward the acceptance of the peace treaty.

The Associated Press send an authoritative dispatch from Paris that America will not participate in any league-of-nations action until the Senate ratifies the treaty.

By the Associated Press

Paris, June 21.—Dispatches received over the American military wire from Germany early this afternoon stated that Herr Mueller, having failed to form a cabinet, Dr. Eduard David, former president of the National Assembly, had been asked to assume the task.

A Havas dispatch quoting advices from Berlin, says the new cabinet, headed by Doctor David as premier, probably would contain the following:

Minister of finance—Dr. Bernhard Dernburg.

Ministry of justice—Herr Sinsheimer.

Minister of the interior—Herr Preussner.

Minister of re-educating—Dr. Schmidt.

Minister of public economy—Herr Wisuel.

Minister of labor—Herr Bauer.

Minister of posts and telegraph—Herr Glöckner.

Minister of foreign affairs—Count von Bernstorff.

Minister of national defense—Gustav Noske.

Colonial minister—Doctor Bell.

Minister without portfolio—Mathias Erzberger.

Mathias Erzberger probably will head the German peace delegation, the advices indicate.

Would Exclude Rantau

The opposition attitude of the Democrats and German Nationalists on the question of the treaty probably will exclude Count von Brockdorff-Rantau from the government.

The German provincial press is strongly urging the speedy signing of the treaty.

Sentiment Favors Peace

Berlin advises to the American delegation, summarizing the situation in Germany up to midnight, show the sentiment throughout Germany to be in favor of accepting the peace terms. The advices cover Leipzig, Dresden, Chemnitz and other representative regions.

Geographically analyzed, the advices indicate that all the southern German states are favorable to the acceptance of the treaty, while the Prussian regions are maintaining some opposition.

The Council of Four of the Peace Conference received a note today from the German peace delegation, asking if Premier Clemenceau's note explaining
